

1501420

Artificial Intelligence Tools

1501326

This course provides the basic tools needed for the application of artificial intelligence concepts, neural networks such as: basic concepts of, neural networks architecture, learning models, applications and case study. Also genetic algorithms and its applications are covered. Latest AI software tools will used in this course.