

Zarqa University
Faculty of Educational Science
Department of Library and Information Science

---

No. 0512251

Information Technology

3 C.H.

This course is intended to introduce students to the concepts of information technology, computers, telecommunications, and electronic resources. The importance of information technology, application of IT in library and information centers. Basic requirements for IT.. The impact of IT on the transfer and exchange of information. IT and developing countries. IT in the Arab countries. Arabic language and IT. Other issues related to IT such as, copyright laws, security, obstacles affecting cooperation