

Course Description

0101147 Methodologies of Researches and Resources of Islam

Introduce students to the importance of scientific research, its goals and methods, ranging from thinking about the problem and the end of the dissolution and what needs to be done to accomplish a successful search of knowing the fundamentals of research and the rules of documentation, writing and manuscripts dealing with sources, and includes research in the other apartment definition of theoretical and practical training on the sources of Islamic Studies and assets deal with her