

This course aims to further expand and vary the students' reading experience and consolidate the skills acquired from Reading I. It, furthermore, lays emphasis on main idea(s), basic sentence(s), support sentences and all textual features that make a paragraph cohesive and coherent including sentential functions and relationships, detecting facts from opinion, inferences; and even writing questions on the reading text by the students themselves.