

A special subject in translation is a course that focuses on different areas related to translation theory and practice in accordance with students' needs and departmental policy in each academic year.